The Competent Authority has received a representation from the Principal of the College of Nursing stating that the college has a permanent Principal and therefore does not require a rotating collegium system. It was also noted that PGI, Chandigarh, with a separate College of Nursing, does not have a collegium system.

Accordingly, the earlier notification stands modified to an extent that there will be no collegium for the College of Nursing.

This issues with the approval of the Director, AIIMS.
